INTUODATA, SMART AI DATA ENGINE FOR ADVANCED DATA MANAGEMENT

IntuoData is the world's only next-generation Smart AI Data Engine. Developed by Hermes Digital Consulting, it is built on a JavaScript programming engine and designed through the scientific application of psychology. It combines AI with a Cognitive Psychology Model to enable the custom creation of sophisticated applications for complex data management.

IntuoData interprets data based on its nature, eliminating the need for coding. While traditional applications structure data according to its source, IntuoData's innovative approach enables more efficient data management, significantly reducing implementation and management costs. This leads to a substantial improvement in ROI.

IntuoData is more than just an AI assistant, Data Management Tool, or No-Code Generator; it is an innovative AI avatar and AI-powered Application Generator featuring Custom Input Fields, a Decision Assistant, a Graphics Engine, a Meta-Platform, a Premier Page, and 24/7 support.

That is why IntuoData is unique in the market.

IntuoData provides databases for any type of organization, featuring customizations designed in minutes or hours—unlike traditional applications.
